WHAT'S NEW

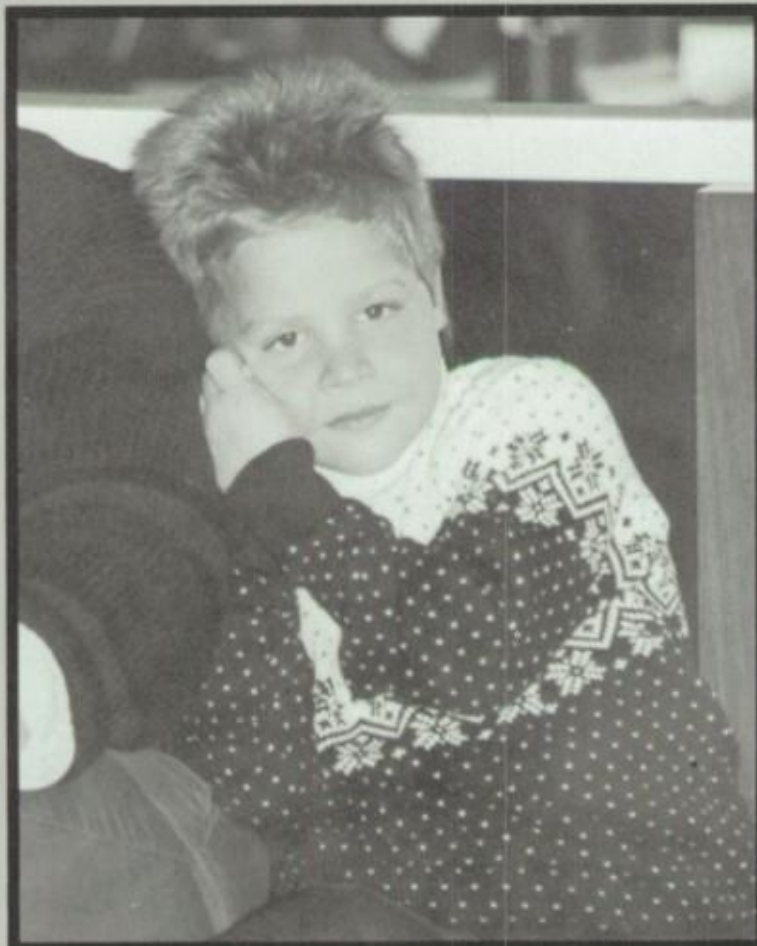

The new elementary school was certainly a focal point in the 1987 school year. The opening ceremony was impressive and gave the citizens of Arp an opportunity to see, appreciate, and be proud of their school system.

GUESS

WHO'S NEWS

The town of Arp made local, state, and national news due to one special little boy, Dustin Nichols. Dustin needed a liver transplant, and the students and faculty at AHS helped raise the money through benefit fundraisers such as dances, faculty basketball games, and talent shows.

GUESS

WHERE WE WENT

From the state capital in Austin to the nation's capital in Washington D.C., the students of AHS traveled to many exciting places and events in 1987. In Austin, the band went to state marching contest, Angie Barberee and Michael Allen advanced to state UIL literary contests, and Rickey Brown competed in the state track meet. Meanwhile, the seniors learned about our state's history in San Antonio, and the NHS learned about our great nation in Washington D.C.

AROUND THE STATE, AROUND THE U.S.

WHEN GOOD TIMES WERE SPENT

Many good times were spent at AHS in 1987. From getting dressed up for the prom, to sweating it out at football, basketball, and drill team practice, to simply cruising town or clowning around; the memories of these good times will last forever.

HOW WE HAD FUN

The students (and faculty) at Arp may have been a little crazy and unusual in 1987, but they had a lot of fun.

WHY AHS IS #1

Guess why AHS was #1 in 1987? SCHOOL SPIRIT! Pride, a sense of togetherness, and a special closeness were shared by the students, faculty, and administration that made 1987 a year to remember.

HIGH SCHOOL . . . HERE WE COME!!

1. Look at all the bright and smiling faces of the Seventh graders.
2. Paul, are you trying to be cool?
3. You're not going to skip school together, are ya'll?
4. Why aren't you two in class?
5. What are you doing, Marshall?
6. Nice pose Michael.
7. Straining just a little aren't you?
8. Jr. High Cheerleaders.
9. The teachers finally caught you two, huh?

1. Cool and the gang.
2. What's the matter Gerard?
3. And then she said . . .
4. Get him Mrs. Shuttlesworth!
5. What are you looking at?
6. The computer whizzes of the future.
7. More computer maniacs.
8. Look at us!

We asked the 5th grade classes what they thought about school:
"When summer starts, I want school to hurry up and get here; but when school starts, I want summer to get here," replied Terry Green.
"I like it. If we work hard and get a good education, we can make lots of money," said Misty Bateman.

Rudy Eddington
High School Principal

The most important component of any school district is the student body. Everything the administration and faculty attempt to do is for the best interest of our students. My main goal as an administrator is to continually strive to improve the learning climate for our students.

There are no finer people than those that live in the community of Arp and the Arp Independent School District. The fact that we have the finest Elementary School facility in East Texas is proof of this. We must never forget that our greatest natural resource is our children. Every effort must be made to prepare them for the future.

J. K. Robbins
Elementary Principal

GUESS ? WHO RULES THE SCHOOL

Lindsay Marshall
Junior High Principal

I hope you as students take time to realize that your teachers are a caring group of people with whom you develop a lasting relationship, whether positive or negative. Education is the only answer to continuing our democratic way of life. Remember to keep a positive attitude about yourself and your efforts to learn — because you are the future.

Student should be secure and happy with themselves, both as today's youth and the future's adults. They should enjoy their world and their lives which we have created and played a role in shaping. Our youth must have as teachers, those who are open-minded yet firm; those who are secure, positive, directed, and most of all, caring.

Teaching is important because students are our most important natural resource. Without them and a good education, we have no hope for the future. — Debbie Vaughan

I feel that helping students relate the good things opposed to the bad things is what teaching is all about. If students are better people because I've taught them: then, I've been successful. — Hershall Shuttlesworth

GUESS WHAT HAPPENED IN 1987

A. 1st day jitters. B. John says "Everything will be O.K." C. Candi and Carlotta practice smiling for the judges. D. Rowdy reaches for pay dirt. E. Clint is proud to receive his letter jacker. F. The senior tigers goof-off before the game. G. Volleyball games were a big "hit" at the Student Council outing. H. Rickey out-leaps his Overton opponents. I. Dominoes were a daily after-lunch pastime. J. Eugene received national recognition for his achievements. K. Gambling again? L. Mindy looks a little anxious as she waits for the results of cheerleader tryouts. M. Scott and his crew crash at the junior high district track meet.

GUESS WHAT HAPPENED IN 1987?

A. Joel, say cheese. B. Mrs. Taylor and a hard day. C. A very excited new cheerleading squad. D. Mrs. Cuba has plenty of help to cut the cake. E. Candy goes for a layup against Overton. F. Gus and Gee doing what they do best — eating! G. Stephen still wears his sunglasses at night. H. Coach Williams is just a wild and crazy kind of guy. I. Johnny looks exceptionally smug about something. J. Peek-a-boo! K. Typical junior high lunchroom chaos. L. Bobbie cries "alas". M. Casey thinks Rickey could be the next Eddie Murphy. N. Rosie serves a good hamburger, doesn't he Subrina? O. I wonder if Angie really is thinking about something. P. The end . . . or is it the beginning?

WE'VE FINISHED!

I hope this yearbook will hold memories that you will cherish forever. The annual staff worked very hard to make it unusual, different, and exciting. I would like to thank each of the members of the Annual Staff and give special recognition to my right-hand men (?), (well!), Stephanie Allred and Dora Moore. Without their help, I would have gone crazy putting this book together. I'd also like to say thanks to our sponsor Mrs. Harman (Mom) for helping us — and for putting up with the radio! Enjoy the 1987 TIGER!

Sincerely,
Rhonda Rieken
Editor '87

1. The editor, Rhonda Rieken, is hard at work drawing up her pages.
2. Angie is really concentrating on her work.
3. Dora is bright-eyed and bushy-tailed.
4. Tressa, what are you smiling at?
